AN ESSAY.

REITER, 3, 22, 1903.

EDITOR NEWS:

Remarking as I do my situation and general environment, I will have to deal with the political idea of undertaking I had in view some time ago.

So, if you will be patient with me, I will add an article for publication in your paper, the subject of which is "The United States a Leading Power in the 20th Century."

It is not a queer fact, but an evident one that the progress of any nation is measured by its civilization. Without civilization there is no good government, and without government no liberty, without liberty, there is a repetition of savage warfare.

Hence it is no great wonder why the United States is placed in the Twentieth Century as the greatest power of the world, when she hangs like a shining star on the Western hemisphere with her moral form of government, and marked degree of civilization. Her light of gospel and intelligence shines upon the islands of the great Orient, with equal brilliancy as that of Great Britain with her Slavery and Living stones.

In 1900, when Manchuria, China, Russia, Germany and nearly all of Orient together with the United States were bordering upon international warfare, the United States intervened with statesmanlike reconciliations of peace and silenced the international conflict.

In 1900, a cruel war had raged not only for some years between Cuba and adjacent islands and Spain. Then and there again the United States manifested her power in war as well as she had shown her potent influences in reconciliations of peace, and with such a man as McKinley at the head of the Nation, and Dewey, Schley, Shafter, Hobson and Theodore Roosevelt to execute his commands, the United States with these great heroes, upheld her hand in alliance to the suffering Cubans, and after one hundred days conflict won Cuba's independence.

The effect of this war seem to unite the sympathies of the North and South. When the news came flashing on the wires to the ears of the American citizens, that on the 19th of Feb., 1898, the U. S. Battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor, with 266 of her citizens on board, the sympathizing pain of irritation struck the heart of the father and son of the gray alike that of the father and son of the blue, and together they walked side by side after the call of 126,000 volunteers by President McKinley.

And now, since this great event, the motto "E pluribus Unum" could more fittingly be applied to the United Republics of America.

The beginning of the 19th Century found these United States hopelessly in debt, caused by a long and bloody war for liberty and freedom, and with a weak constitutional government—founded by Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Lee, Hamilton and a number of other great statesmen. But when Alexander Hamilton, was chosen Secretary of treasury under Washington's administration the government took on a different face, and has been wearing it ever since, with two exceptions. It was said of that great financier by Daniel Webster, that "He smote the rock of National resources and abundant of revenue burst forth, he touched the dead corpse of the public credit and it sprang upon its feet."

The dawning of the 20th Century finds the National treasure full handed with a surplus of about $100,000,000.00. During the previous century Uncle Sam was continually borrowing money from Great Britain and issuing government interest bearing bonds. The present century finds conditions reversed. England is now looking to the United States for money loans, and a few months ago a ship took sail from the harbor of San Francisco with over $7,000,000 in gold on board as loan by Uncle Sam to the government of Russia.

A little over 100 years ago we were not able to manufacture scarcely anything on account of the impressment of Great Britain. Today our manufacturing interest is second to none in the world. Our locomotives run on the Russian, Manchurian railway lines, Andrew Carnegie's steel is being stretched across the ever frozen soil of Siberia. The Standard Oil Co., with John D. Rockefeller as President, supplies oil to an extent to bear ly all civilized nations of the globe. Liverpool, London, Paris, and all the other cities depend on the United States mainly for tobacco supplies. The whiskey distilled in Kentucky and Illinois reaches the shores and is being consumed by all civilized countries. Large quantities of our lumber is shipped to nearly all foreign ports. The Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph stock yards are points mainly looked to for foreign pork demands. The Chicago Stock Exchange being the greatest in the world. A great number of our horses and mules shipped to foreign demands have fallen upon the battlefields of the British wars.

The Kansas farmer raises wheat that is manufactured into flour and placed upon the Frenchman's table. The Texas farmer raises cotton that is manufactured in London, Liverpool and Manchester into cotton goods and worn by British men and women. The California stock man raises sheep. The wool from them is manufactured in Falls City, London and Paris into woollen goods and worn by the far distant Siberian.

Our Railway lines are the greatest in extent of any Nation on the globe. Our telegraphic communication is almost complete. The long distance telephone lines are a modern invention, which makes the citizens of New York a door neighbor to the man of the "Lost Star State. The Emigrant of Seattle Washington is in almost direct touch with the old settler of St. Augustine, Fla. And when Cyrus W. Fields completed the Atlantic cable in 1866, spanning the bottom of the Atlantic ocean from Valencia Bay islands to Hearts contents Newfoundland, oceans were no longer a prevention to enter national communications.

Our steam boat navigation by the aid of many navigable rivers and artificial canals, affords the largest domestic commercial trade of any country. In regard to our inventions, when recently a paper was published upon an Oceanic steamer by the aid of wireless telegraphy. Who says Uncle Sam isn't all right in the 20th Century.

A TRIBUTE TO WOMAN.

No more beautiful tribute to woman, or one more absolutely truthful, can be paid her than this extract from a recent sermon delivered by Rev. J. Kinsley Smith, of Louisville: "The modern demand is ideally just; that the man ought to be as good as and as pure as the woman. But considered apart from the standards of ideal righteousness, and as a morally economic fact, a woman's honor is more precious to the home and to society than that of a man. A man's downfall involves often only his own character and that of another, but a woman's downfall carries with it a far wider series of disaster. Not unjustly, then has this superstition, if it be a superstition, been rooted in universal human opinion. Nor will it ever be wholly unproved, or, if it is, it will be to the fatal detriment of human society. The womanly woman more over estimates this part of purity not for its prudential, but for its essential value. This heavenly flame glows in her heart, it is a quality of her blood, it shines as a light upon her face, it distills as a fragrance from her presence; it is the life and breath of her being. There is a divine something in the mere outward contact with an instinctively modest woman which acts on men like a spiritual tonic. They are made ashamed of their low thoughts and coarse sins by the very sacrament of her presence. The influence of such a woman in the home and in society is as pervasive as light, and as purifying as goodness itself. One such woman moving about her little world in the quiet beauty of character is worth more to the men and women who compose that circle than all the sermons that were ever preached or all the conventions for social purity that were ever held."

THE NEXT HOUSE.
The next House of Representatives will number 383 members, an increase of 28 over the Congress just closed. For the first time since the 51st Congress, the membership will be divided between republicans and democrats, no third party or Fusion candidates having been elected. There are at present two vacancies in the membership of the next House.

Of the 388 members elected, 206 are republicans and 178 are democrats, a republican majority of 27. The two districts which have not yet elected representatives, the First Oregon and the seventh Kansas, are both republican, and when these seats are filled the republican majority will be increased to 29. In the 57th Congress there were 201 republicans, 151 democrats and five others, a republican plurality of 50.

In the next house there will be 127 new members, 10 of whom have served in some Congress previous to the 57th Congress. Of the new members, 71 are democrats and 48 republicans. There will also be three new delegates, Arizona sending J. F. Wilson, a democrat, who represented the territory in the 56th Congress; Oklahoma, sending H. S. McGuire, a republican, and Prince Jonah Kalanialualoa coming as a republican to represent Hawaii.

The new Congressional directory contains the autobiographies of those members of Congress who will sit in the 58th Congress. There will be five members in the Kentucky delegation. James B. McCreary succeeds W. J. Deboe in the Senate, Ollie M. James will represent the First Kentucky district, A. O. Stanley will succeed Henry D. Allen, Joseph Swager succeeds Wm. E. S. Twiss's place and Frank A. Hopkins will represent the 10th district—C. J.

Mr. J. S. Snow, an old and well known merchant of Jackson Co., Mo., says: I have been a sufferer from black-leg and kidney troubles for years. While I have not lost any time from my business, yet it was often an exertion for me to attend to it. I had no appetite and was gradually losing flesh. I did not feel sick, yet I had no energy, no ambition; felt sluggish and careworn. I began using GAY-LUB and continued to use until I had taken a half dozen bottles and now feel like a different man. I have gained ten pounds in weight and feel as bright and active as I did ten years ago. Sold by Mr. Cravens.

GORDON'S EAREWELL ADDRESS.
The following farewell address of Gen. John B. Gordon to his corps at the close of the war will be read with interest by every veteran of the "Lost Cause," who are so proud of the Commander in Chief of the Confederate Veterans Association and also by every right-minded citizen, for the good advice contained in it, and should be preserved as a matter of history connected with the late civil war.

"My countrymen and fellow soldiers: Already has our great commander, General Robert E. Lee, spoken an affectionate farewell to the army of Northern Virginia. No pen or words can add to his touching and patriotic address. I beg, however, as your late corps commander, the privilege of a few words in this sad hour of our parting. Let me assure you that my heart goes out to each and every one of this gallant corps in this dark hour of disaster. Do not doubt, my fellow soldiers, that the future historian will give to you the full measure of your martial glory."

Your battle flags, now furled, tell of your heroic achievements. Thousands of your comrades, on a mat every plain in historic old Virginia, sleep the sleep of death, yet the death of glory. But few survive the fierce conflict of civil war, and only a remnant is left to me to-day, to tell the story of the battles and privations of the Second Army Corps—the old corps of Stonewall Jackson. This corps and this army of Northern Virginia will be remembered as long as the names of Stonewall Jackson and Robert E. Lee will be treasured by a grateful people.

Overwhelmed by superior numbers, and almost inexhaustible resources, together with the untiring energy and dauntless courage that has ever marked the military movements of the great leader of the Federal army, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, the Army of Northern Virginia, an army of heroes, decimated by battle, diseases and privation through four years of almost continuous warfare, will now disband, never, perhaps, to meet again. With our last parting let me impress upon you one or two thoughts, which I trust will go with you to your homes and firesides. Remember that in God's providence we have surrendered, not to a foreign foe, but to our own countrymen. In the exhibition of your fortitude in the face of disaster, over to be great, and good citizens as you have been great and heroic soldiers. Ever be the model citizen, as you have been a model soldier. Obey the civilian, no matter how odious the name may be temporarily. Discharge every duty as a citizen of your respective states and to the general government. Sustain your poor, help the feeble and succor the unfortunate in your midst, and by so doing you will command not only the admiration and respect of the world, but win the friendship and confidence of those who are now your political enemies.

Fellow soldiers, with my love and my benediction resting upon each and every one within the sound of my voice, I now bid you farewell. May God, in his infinite mercy and kindness, protect and bless you, now and forever."

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For State Treasurer.

We are authorized to announce H. H. HENNING, Wayne county, a candidate for the office of State Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Mr. N. B. Hays, of Pineville, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General. He is making an active canvass and wherever he speaks he makes friends who will stand with him till the fight is over. His speech in Greensburg last week, was strong, convincing the Democrats of that section that Mr. Hays is the logical candidate, measuring up to the requirements of the office in every particular. He is proving to the Democrats outside of the Eleventh district that the Eleventh has rights in common with other sections of the State and that no district in the State has truer supporters of party principles and party nominees than the Eleventh—the cut-off of four or five districts made so to make others safe. We desire to say that Mr. Hays is not missing the mark in his speeches. He is calling attention that the Eleventh is a part of the State, that the 17,000 Democrats within its borders are not whooping for the Democratic party for policy but for principle, and that they are a part of the great brotherhood contending for the principles of a true Democracy without the fear of punishment or the hope of reward. It is evident that the Eleventh is a potent factor in a State election for it has voted enough to save the State in any close contest and yet the Democrats who have heretofore asked nominations from the party have been overthrown by the ambition and strength of stronger districts. The time has come when the party should not measure a man wholly by his surroundings. It is of worth to the party and to the State that every section should be represented and any policy adverse to this will inevitably lead to weakness and not to strength. The Eleventh does not seek to dictate, it has never crowded its claims on the party but we ask recognition. We know Mr. Hays. We know him to be an able man and a true Democrat and as a matter of justice to the Democrats of this District he should have the nomination. In this section we are all for him. No day has ever been so cold, no night too warm nor too precinct too remote for him to shun when called upon. He is a gallant, game, able Democrat worthy the honor he seeks. Democrats remember your duty to a mountain man.

Henry E. Thomas, a Baltimore, negro, and Elizabeth L. Landgren, a comely white girl of Swedish antecedents, were married in the First Presbyterian church, Washington, D. C., last Thursday by the pastor, Dr. Donald C. McLeod. For the benefit of society the pastor, the church building and the couple who were married should be placed over a dynamite bomb.

The Republican candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney, in this district, who were at Burkville Monday of last week, joined in a request to the District Chairman for a meeting of the Committee, to be held in Columbia, Monday May 4, to take steps for a primary or convention to select nominees.

The elevator at the court-house in Louisville fell last week. There were twelve persons in the car, eight of whom were injured, two very seriously.

The waters in lower Mississippi river are receding, but there is hardly any to correctly estimate the damage.

NOTICE

To the Democratic Executive Committee of Adair county to meet at the Circuit Clerk's office on Monday the 6th day of April, 1903, at 1 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of appointing officers and to attend to other arrangements for the Primary Election on the 9th day of May, 1903. Said Primary is held for the purpose to settle the claims of the various candidates for State office; and would respectfully ask all Democratic candidates for the office of Circuit Clerk Clerk for this county to appear at said meeting and let their wishes be known to the committee.

N. M. TUTT, C. D. E. C.

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

Mr. T. T. Hedger, in making his announcement for this important position in part says:

"I beg to announce to you my candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture, subject to the will of the Democratic voters at the primary to be held May 9. The short time intervening before the election renders it impossible for me to cover all of the State. I desire to state that I have been for years and am now a practical and active farmer, and that all of my interests are dependent upon the success of the farmers. I am in thorough sympathy with all matters pertaining to the advancement of the agricultural classes of the State, and of course, in our commonwealth it is well known that the success of all other lines of business are dependent upon the welfare of the farmers. I nominated I pledge my best efforts to use the Department of Agriculture in the interest of the farmers and the welfare of the Commonwealth."

I have all times been an active and consistent Democrat. I am profoundly grateful to the Democrats of Scott county, who have twice honored me with the Sherrill's office without opposition in the ranks of my own party. I have always been found in the thickest of the fight for Democratic principles, both State and National. I have served four years as a member of the State Central Democratic Committee, representing the Seventh Congressional District, and feel that I can point with pride to the success of the Democratic party in my district under my direction.

In these times of great combinations of capital and trusts, no one feels more keenly the direct results of their unjust oppression than the farmers of the country, and I pledge you if nominated to use the office to resist the oppression of all trusts and to stand fighting for the interests of the agriculturists."

Mr. Money, of Mississippi, in discussing the race question in the United States Senate last week, among other things said: "Mr. Roosevelt is not the President of America, but the President of the black belt," and that he has won the hatred of the people of the South."

Miss Bertie Thomas visited her sister, Mrs. Lula Bumparter last week.

Mr. Bob Bumparter, who has been real sick is slowly improving.

Mr. Van Mercer and son, Jim, are at Bowling Green to see their sick son and brother, who is very sick with typhoid fever.

Mr. Dad Thomas is real sick with the grip.

Mrs. Desie Thomas and little son, Hugh, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Liley.

BOOTS and SHOES MADE TO ORDER ON SHORT NOTICE.

NOTICE, STOCKMEN!

Jordon Peacock.

The best Breeder in Kentucky, will make the present season at his new home in Gradyville, Ky., and will serve mares at $15.00 to insure a colt one week old; or $10.00 if paid as soon as the fact is ascertained that the mare is with foal.

JORDON PEACOCK has proven himself to be one of the best breeders in Kentucky. His colts command the highest prices and are good sellers at any age. His colts have been sold as high as $2,000. I will $50.00 in premiums on his colts: For the best colt $25.00; 2, $15.00; 3, $10.00; to be shown at the Columbia Fair in 1904. Bring your mares and raise a colt that will bring your own price.

I WILL STAND TWO FIRST-CLASS JACKS AT $7.00 TO INSURE a living colt, money due when colts are foaled or mare leave the neighborhood. All care taken to prevent accidents but I will not be responsible for any.

HORSE TRAINING.

Persons having horses that they want trained should bring them to me. I have a first-class handler and will handle them for 50c. a day. I want to buy some nice fancy horses; will pay good prices for the right kind. Thanking the people for past patronage and soliciting the future I am yours truly,

FIGURES SHOW STEADY GROWTH.

Mr. Secretary Shaw's contention that there is substantial prosperity throughout the country, taken as a whole, which is not materially affected by the speculation in Wall street, lends especial interest to the summary of internal commerce of the United States which has just been issued to the treasury bureau of statistics. In this Chief Statistician Austin makes comparison between the record of January of the present year with that of the same month of the two preceding years to show that judged from the standpoint of traffic operations the level of national prosperity manifests no tendency to recede.

The figures upon the live stock movement in the west show a total for cattle, calves, hogs and sheep slightly less than during 1902 and 1903, but this is due to the market falling off in the number of hogs transported; there has been a continuous increase during the three years in the other items. Comparison of the wheat receipts at eight principal wheat markets for three seasons to the end of January shows that this year the receipts were considerably in excess of the two preceding seasons. Trunk-line shipments of all kinds of grain from Chicago for the first five weeks of the present year show a very decided increase over the corresponding periods while the provisions shipments from the same great center illustrate, in marked degree, the same general upward trend in business. Receipts of grain and flour at the Atlantic seaboard are much in advance of those for January of last year, the total for the four principal ports of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore showing an increase of 17 per cent.

With regard to cotton, this government report says: "In the southern states, a total of 8,296,033 bales of cotton are reported as constituting the available supply up to January 31 of this year. Of this amount, 8,049,989 bales were receipts in sight for the season, of which latter figures 5,921,696 bales were received at ports; 736,293 bales entered into the net overseas shipments, and 1,688,000 bales were taken by southern mills."

The output of petroleum from the Texas fields is summarized as follows:

"Shipments of petroleum from the Beaumont field in January amounted to 5,540 cars, containing 1,111,863 barrels. Since shipments began in 1900, a total of 83,461 cars have been shipped, containing 18,896,657 barrels of forty-two gallons each."—Atlanta Constitution.

The latest advance of the price of oil by the Standard—one cent a gallon—is a vivid object lesson in the main evil of monopoly, and that is the arbitrary raising of the prices of the people's necessities. Since the beginning of the coal strike the price of oil has been advanced, in all, 34 cents per gallon—an advance of nearly 50 per cent. The demand for oil has enormously increased. At this time, owing to the scarcity of hard coal, thousands of homes are using oil exclusively for both heating and cooking purposes. In this advance in price legitimate and reasonable, or fully justified by increased demand? Nobody knows. The Standard Oil Company's books cannot be reached by law, and it continues to pile up its enormous dividends day by day—and every cent of its great profits are paid directly out of the pockets of the people.—New York World.

The Harrodsburg Herald voices the sentiments of all right thinking people when it says Kentuckians have long since passed that period of their political history, when they chose their state officers exclusively on national issues. Any man coming before the democratic party in this state demanding a platform on coming to win victory next November simply admits that his democracy is of such an uncertain variety that it stands for practically nothing. All good citizens, be they democrats or what not, want a clear, economical administration of the state government. An administration in line with the new spirit of commercial enterprise now bestirring its citizens. Pegging with all your clap trap of national issues, get down to fundamentals and to the business in hand.

Persons with weak lungs or chronic lung affections, who have been treated by the family physician without relief, should try Dr. Cassel's Cough Syrup. They will find the effect very different from any medicine they have ever taken. It is the greatest lung-healing remedy known. For sale by M. Craven.

FOR SALE.—I desire to sell my residence and ground attached, lying near Fair Grounds.

W. H. Jones.

CAMP KNOX.

The continuous rains and warm atmosphere have made Green country roads almost impassable. Between here and Greensburg may be seen the sinking farms of several men, teams and wagons. In places it appears that several potatoes are lost from sight. This is exaggerating, but it is impossible to give a description of road conditions without carrying the mind of the reader to such an extreme.

Our circuit court convened Monday with Judge Patterson on the bench. The case of Dr. J. J. Booker, for killing Henry E. Christie, is set for the middle of the week and almost the entire community is summoned in the case.

Capt. Joel O. Haskins and wife, who were born and reared here, Mr. H. having been in business here for thirty years, shook the dust of Haskinsville off their feet Monday and left for their new home at Bowling Green. They sold quite a lot of their belongings and shipped more than 5,000 lbs., besides leaving behind a lot of stock, etc. They leave here with the good will of all who knew them and they are commended to those with whom they come in contact.

Real estate throughout this entire section has for some time been on a boom. Certain deals affected among the survivors of the late Capt. Christie show the value of his farm $12,500. The Massie farm has sold for $5,500. The widow Stubbs has refused $5,000 for her farm, lying adjoining the Massie farm. The 40 acre tract, of Dr. Walford farm, containing 300 acres, sold last August for $1,500 and the owners have since refused a proposition price for the entire farm. The Haskins' good stand and two farms of 50 and 74 acres of land sold for $1,900. Just why all this rise in real estate is not known, but it is presumed that the proposed Columbus-Campbellville Railroad has given it a stimulus, then the fact that it is the best farming section in Green county.

Mr. R. H. Christie has been appointed post-master at this place and as he is painstaking and careful business, it is predicted he will make a good officer. The question of building a bridge across Green river at Greensburg is attracting some attention at this time. There is something peculiarly strange about Green county finances. The tax rate the past year was $1.05 on the $100. County has no road system, has built no bridges, has not built a court-house for nearly 100 years, been several years since a jail was built, in short no signs of improvement, and has no money to its credit.

KNIFLEY.

Penty of rain and high water. Mr. Chas. Harmon and wife who have been visiting J. M. Pendleton and relatives in this section all Winter, will return to his home in Kansas this week. George McKelha will start for Kansas at an early date. W. S. Watson and family will leave for Missouri soon. "Uncle" John Humphreys has sold his farm to a North Carolinian. Consideration, $800. Mrs. J. M. Pendleton, who has been reported sick, is no better. She has consumption.

The teamsters report the road from here to Campbellville in a fearful condition. C. Harmon, the champion checker player, went up against B. F. Tupman the other day. As a result Tupman left wearing a broad grin.

Some of our people are complaining of losing chickens between suns. Born, to the wife of J. T. Hancock, March 7, a son, James Cloyd, from the upper counties, passed through our town one day last week with a nice bunch of cattle.

R. E. Tandy has been around in this locality engaging hogs for the last of the month delivering at 51 to 60 cents per pound. A. J. Hart, of Cadbury, was in this part selling articles in the line of silverware last week.

Mrs. Kate Atkins was on the sick list several days of last week. Rev. W. H. C. Sandridge was at his old home place at Craig's Hope Friday to be at the interment of his elderly father, Mr. William Sandridge, whose remains had been sent from Lakeland asylum, at which place Mr. Sandridge had been in custody for the last nine months. Our heartfelt sympathy to Bro. Sandridge and family in their bereavement.

All vegetation is springing up, a sight beautiful to behold. Apple trees are about ready to blossom. They are likely to be in danger.

Mrs. A. J. Horion, of Peach-croville, arrived here Saturday night on a visit to Mrs. James O. Gressom and her family.

T. R. Price and wife, Mrs. Lizzie and Miss Nannie Pennington, Mrs. Sue and Miss Susan Gressom were visiting the family of Wood Paxton last week. Bro. Sandridge has lately sold his farm together with ten bble of corn and one thousand pounds of hay to Jas. W. Patterson, of Breeding, for $2,000. The latter is moving down here this week, having been hindered last week on account of bad weather. True, while we will gladly give those new neighbors the right hand of fellowship, we regret very much to see the good old ones leave this immediate community, in which might find each other we have lived for 28 years.

There were refreshments served at S. H. Mitchell's Friday night. Quite a crowd of young people were present to enjoy them to their heart's content.

Prospects for a peach crop seems to be doomed. Mrs. Lizzie Murrell, who has been sick, is better. Mr. M. J. Murrell, his daughter, Mrs. Mattie Vance, and little daughter, Nannie, are on the sick list. Mrs. Sue and Miss Susan, M. L. and Master Bruce Gressom spent the day visiting Mrs. A. J. Horton at Jas. O. Gressom's, Sunday.

Death Rate Increasing.

The 1900 census shows a decrease of 10 per cent in the general death rate. The decline in consumption is more marked than any other disease. Many causes are attributed, but it is safe to say that Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is responsible for this decline, to a large extent. Many a life has been saved by its use. There is nothing anywhere just as good for lung and throat troubles. It's positively guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free.
